ANNOUNCING . . .

An International Symposium
"Philosophy for Children: A Model Curriculum for Model Schools"
April 12-14, 1989 at the Menger Hotel
in San Antonio, Texas

This program is made possible in part by a grant from the Texas Committee for the Humanities, a state program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Sponsored by The University of Texas at San Antonio in conjunction with the Center for Analytic Teaching in Philosophy for Children.

As the culminating event of a year long model school project in which Philosophy for Children is implemented in two elementary schools in the San Antonio area, scholars, teacher-trainers, and teachers form across the state, nation and world are invited to this symposium to share ideas and concerns regarding Philosophy for Children.

Key Note speakers include:

Matthew Lipman and Ann Margaret Sharp from the Institute for the Advancement of Philosophy for Children

John McDermott of Texas A&M University

Featuring: "Socrates: A Dramatization and Discussion"
by Ron Rembert of Texas Wesleyan College as Socrates

We expect to have papers presented on the following themes:

(a) Philosophy for Children Histories (other than Harry)
(b) Philosophy for Children in Non-School Settings (home-bound, church, library, adult education, etc.)
(c) Philosophy for Children and the Philosophical Tradition
(d) Philosophy for Children and Educational Excellence
(e) Philosophy for Children in Non-American Settings (We recognize that one's culture affects the way one does Philosophy for Children, and we welcome histories of projects in other cultural settings. Translators will be available.)
(f) Alternative approaches for doing philosophy with children

Papers will be published in the Spring and Fall 1989 issues of Analytic Teaching.

The Philosophy for Children Symposium will precede the annual meeting of the Philosophy of Education Society scheduled for April 14-17, 1989. Both conferences are in the historic Menger Hotel, next to the Alamo in Downtown San Antonio. Room rates of $55.00 single and $75.00 double are guaranteed for both conferences and joint P4C, PES sessions are being pursued.
